SURE REMEDY FOR INDIGESTION.

It is a fact well known to physicians that about 90 per cent, of the cases of indigustion, stomach brouble, dyspensia. flatulence, etc., are due, directly or indirectly, to the presence of harmful acid in the stomach. From this it is evident that correction and prevention of the trouble depend almost entirely on neutralising the acid. The most sensible way of doing this is to take alittle 'Bisurated' Magnesia with a little water directly after eating or whenever pain is felt. Try it! All trace of harmful acid, disappears instantly; conseit is 'Bisurated' Magnesia.

UNSEAMANLIKE.

CONDUCT OF A DISGRACE-FUL KIND.

"Unseamanlike conduct of a most disgraceful kind" was the term which the captain of the N.Y.K. "Nikko Maru" used when the French cruiser, "Jules" Michelet," passed right across her bows and blew dense clouds of smoke over the coaster's deck as the two vessels were entering Nagasaki Harbour on the Monday morning. As a result it is understood that the manager of Two Osaka Shosen Kaisha the N.Y.K. Nagasaki branch will steamers are expected to arrive enter a formal protest at the to-day. . The "Renong" is reported to be tohadly damaged. 'Three men were precipitated into the water and rescued from the strong current by fishing boats.

The "Selangor" was holed in the stern over the 'waterline. "Both vessels were unaware of each other's proximity.

A Japanese passenger had his leg crushed and was taken to hospital at Teluk Anson, where the "Selangor" proceeded.

She was boarded by many visitors, including the Raja Muda, the District Officer and port officials. The "Selangor" was, not so badly THE Steamship damaged, and is returning to Singa port on schedule time. The "Renong" proceeded to Pen-

DEDUCTION OF SCIENTISTS.

"Oxford, August 9:

Where did modern man originate? The "scientists" assembled ofor the annual meeting of the British Assoclation were at yariance to-day. Professor H. J. Fleure, the presi dent of the anthropology section, declared that he spread over the world from a North African zone between the Atlantic edge of the of the Sahara and Persia.

Professor H. F. Osborne, in lecture on the work of the American Museum expedition to the (local desert claimed that man came originally from the high plateau region of Asia, and there are older professors who say that the dawr age of man was in the traditiona lowlands of southern and western Asia, the Garden of Eden.

Early modern men, said Professor Fleure, were more or brown-skinned. "dark-haired. dark-eyed, so that they probably . Dived where there was a good deal of summer sunshine?

The earliest forms of culture, including cultivation of crops, stone grinding, and the dawn of metal alurgy, spread into Europe via Hungary about 4,000 B.C."

The discovery of fire, observed this professor, brought about a change in the work of the sexes. since, with its advent, woman would tend more to stay at home to mind the fire while her husband went out

It would not be far wrong therefore to say that, with diminished hair growth, the influence of thyroid secretion has been liberated to exert itself elsewhere. Since its relations with brain growths were understood to be close, this might be an accessory factor of brain growth in man. ...

Association With Fire.

Dr. Gunther went further and quoted Shakespeare's lines: "What he (Time) hath scanted men in hair, he hath given them in wit."

The association of men with fire. which he had described as the original cause of hairlessness, produced a situation in which a hairy man was at a disadvantage as compared with the hairless man, so that hairlessness became the outward and visible sign of the attainment of a certain standard of intellect.

Contact with fire produced three types of man. First came the manwho took refuge from wild beasts among the natural fires of volcanic regions. There he probably learned the value of food, accidentally spoke as follows:

Considering local conditions, we have every reason to be satisfied with the position of the Society. We have, as you see, expended just over $1,000, in assisting deserving Scotsmen. In one or two instances we have had letters from these, expressing gratitude for the assistance, and offering to return the money when in a position to do so. I may say we did not ask for a refund, and the offer was purely voluntary.

We' congratulate Master John Laing; of the Central British School on winning the J. R. M. Smith" Scholarship.

You will see that fewer new members joined the Society this year, but this is explained by the fact that fewer Scotsmen are coming out to the Colony at the moment. As conditions become normal, again this will remedy litself. For the same reason reeruiting for the Scottish Company right itself in the near future and I hope, we shall welcome Captain Ross, on his return to Colony, with a Company up to full strength. In the meantime I appeal to all young Scotsmen arriving in the Colony to join the Scottish Company without delay. INSTANCE OF IMMORTAL FICTION.

Like Hercules Come True.

An extraordinary case has come to light in the French law courts to stir a host of memories.

The story is that a manufacturer produced an artificial silk which proved explosive in use. Nitric acid entered into the combosition, and was not extracted; it is said, before the yarn was used.

The result was, according to the legal argument, that a boy wearing a scarf of this material was burned to death owing to the If the kettle won't boil when scarf bursting into flames. WEEK'S PAPERS IN OVERLAND CHINA MAIL.

Either for use here as a reference, or for sending Home to "tell everything," this week's issue of the "Overland China Mail" will be found to be extremely useful. As the weekly edition of the "China Mail," all the local news and reports-by mail or cable on China are included. What better then to take the place of a tedious letter?

OUR NAVAL HEROES. There are the latest despatches, giving vivid details of how 110 British Naval men fought 20,000 Chinese at Wanhsien: The whole action and rescue is described at length. Particulars about additions to the China Fleet are mentioned and the British Minister's Note to Peking nicely rounds off the

BOYCOTT "SETTLEMENT."

Mr. Eugene Chen's important despatch on the decision to settle the boycott and to impose new taxes is reproduced.

As with the case in all matters not readily understood, the "China Mail" has made it a practice to add footnotes or comment where required. Such will be found in profusion through the "Overland China Mail.

FOREIGNERS IN DANGER.

Many are the wild yarns which circulate abroad about the dangers undergone by foreigners in China. This week's issue has much to say concerning events in the lives of British and others in Kwangtung, Kwangsi, central China, along the Yangtse and elsewhere.

Several messages throw much light on anti-British propaganda.

ARTICLES BY EXPERTS.

In addition to the current local events, there are special articles written by experts, such as "Who's who in the Canton Army." Latest Picket Activities on the River

The protest against the treatment of a British subject in Swatow will make interesting reading.
